

Is Colombia joining the solar air conditioning game

Overview

Is Colombia a good country for solar energy?

Colombia's solar resource is significant but underdeveloped to date. Installed solar capacity still represents only 1,4% of its total, but recent growth is remarkable: since 2018, its renewable energy production has increased 25-fold, and with projects underway by 2024, even greater growth is expected.

How has solar energy development impacted hydroelectric power production in Colombia?

Solar energy development has been strengthened during periods of drought, offsetting the lower availability of hydroelectric power with photovoltaic production during the months of higher solar radiation. Colombia is among the top twenty producers of hydroelectric power in the world.

Why is solar energy important in Latin America?

Solar energy has grown significantly in Latin America, with Chile and Brazil as regional leaders. The development of solar farms drives energy diversification, economic development, and rural electrification.

Which countries are advancing solar energy?

The advancement of solar energy is not exclusive to large countries. Paraguay, Ecuador, El Salvador, Panama, Venezuela, Belize, Nicaragua, and Guatemala showcase success stories or ambitious plans to consolidate renewable energy as a driver of sustainable development.
