Overview

What are the best portable power stations in New Zealand?

Grid Escape's ATB & Pecron Portable Power Stations range are designed to withstand New Zealand's harsh elements. These compact yet robust units are perfect for any scenario, whether exploring the great outdoors, powering through work at a remote construction site, or staying prepared during an unexpected power outage.

Which portable power station should I buy?

The ideal portable power station to buy depends on which devices you plan to use and how long you will travel without access to a recharging point. Our 1526Wh power station offers triple the power capacity of the 555Wh model, making it the best choice for people continuously on the road or whose camping trips last longer than the weekend.

Does Power Station have an off-grid system?

For your peace of mind, Power Station's full off-grid systems are approved and certified in NZ. Power Station systems have true off-grid capability with generator backup, with the option to connect to the grid as a battery backup. Start with the essentials, then add more panels or batteries later based on your budget and goals.

What is the power station independent energy system (IES)?

The Power Station Independent Energy System (IES) is a new concept in independent living. Made by Power Station in New Zealand, it's a fully off-grid solar power system that can be installed in an existing grid-connected home. The grid connection is used only as a backup to top up your batteries when required.
