

St Johns Wind Project Energy Storage

Overview

How will the Burchill wind farm benefit Saint John?

Once operational, the Burchill wind farm is set to generate enough electricity for approximately 15% of Saint John's energy supply. Additionally, it will increase energy security for Saint John residents and New Brunswickers by reducing New Brunswick's dependence on imported energy sources.

Where is Saint John's first wind farm located?

In June 2023, history was made when Saint John's first utility-scale wind farm began injecting locally produced green, renewable energy into our grid. The Burchill Wind Project is located on Crown land in Lorneville, approximately 15 kilometers southwest of Saint John. Number of turbines in the wind farm.

Who is Saint John energy?

Saint John Energy is Burchill's interconnection partner, transmitting the power produced there to the city's grid and energy buyer. Project commissioning and grand opening ceremony.

Does Saint John energy have a battery system?

The battery system may also help Saint John Energy provide power to customers during power outages due to storm events. "Renewable electricity can be reliable at all times of the year, thanks to the latest battery storage technology," said Steven Guilbeault, the federal Minister of Environment and Climate Change.
